

Monday 4 November 2019

We look forward to seeing our recently departed Year 11 students this week, as they return for their Awards Evening. Given the announcement last week of the national performance tables, it is timely that we are celebrating the success of this year group, both academically and holistically. We are delighted that Councillor Gordon Jones, former Cabinet Member for Education, will be presenting the awards. It is always a pleasure to see the students once more and share with them all that they achieved. The ceremonies will commence at 7.00pm.

It was lovely to see so many Year 7 and 8 Parents and Carers at the Learning Together evening before half-term. If you missed the evening, please do take time to look at our slides here. The three workshops covered strategies for learning, mental health and well-being and E-safety.

Next week, we, along with the whole country, will stop and reflect in remembrance. On Tuesday morning students in Year 7 and 8 will be led by Year 9 students and by those students who are members of the cadet forces in a service at St Mary's Church. On Monday morning all students and staff will take a minutes silence along with people across the country. This year we particularly remember the role of all the allied forces, across 47 countries, who came together, fought and died for the freedom we enjoy today.
